15TH ANNUAL NATIONAL OPEN EXPECTS FULL FIELD OF 512

The 15th Anniversary National Open year, and all ACC members interested in Cribbage Tournament will be held in competing at the National Open this Raleigh, North Carolina, at the North summer are urged to contact Nick Pond Raleigh Hilton and Towers on Saturday, at 919-890-6064 for full entry information. You may write Nick in care of the August 1.

The unique, double-elimination event annually attracts players from across the country to what USA TODAY last year called the best annual playing card tournament in America.

This year for the first time Tournament Director Nick Pond believes there is an excellent chance that a full field of 512 players will be competing. Based on a 512-player field, the championship tournament will offer a $25,500 purse. Last year the National Open awarded a total of $34,505 in the various competitions held over the three days of the tournament.

Entries are arriving at tournament headquarters in Raleigh at a record pace this year, and all ACC members interested in competing at the National Open this summer are urged to contact Nick Pond at 919-890-6064 for full entry information. You may write Nick in care of the National Open Cribbage Tournament, PO Box 12800, Raleigh, NC 27605; but because entries will close on Friday, July 15, at 1 p.m., those wishing entry information will receive it quicker by calling. All entries received after the 512-player mark is reached will be returned as the field is mathematically limited to 512.

This year the popular Druke long board will be used for the first time, and the National Open committee members are doing everything in their power to make this the best event ever.

There are many members of the ACC who for one reason or another have never attended the National Open. CRIBBAGE WORLD urges all of its readers to give serious consideration to attending this year.

VOTERS

Remember when voting: You can vote for fewer than 12 candidates for the Board of Directors, but don't vote for more than 12 or your ballot won't count.

THE PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

Joseph P. Wergin

After publishing "Rules Everyone Should Know" in the April issue, the editor received letters with the question: "Why don't you publish the answers?" In our recent direct mailing campaign, this list was included as a sales pitch to join in order to learn the answers. So far, 130 people signed up, some of whom wanted to find out the answers.

In replying to our critics, this scribe referred them to the rule book. Why didn't they open the rule book and read it?

Before the judges' exam program was in existence, there were people acting as judges who did not read the rules. In fact, they did not have a book along. Rulings were made that cost players $100 or more, along with a batch of rating points. Your president acted and initiated the judges' exam for the primary purpose of getting judges to read the rule book.

A few years ago Frank Zabrowski took over a floundering program and since then has corrected papers for over 200 members. He has constructed three different tests and is now working on the problem of renewal of certification, senior judges, and judgmental decisions. The latter will address situations not covered in the rule book. Frank recently resigned. However, we have prevailed upon him to reconsider, and I am pleased to report that he has agreed to continue heading the program indefinitely.

Officials and members of the Congress appreciate the dignity you have given to the program, Frank, and we do hope that you will continue in this capacity for many more years. Best of health to you!

ELECTION TIME

Members are encouraged to vote for candidates for the Board of Directors. It is difficult for many of you to vote for people in another part of the country whom you don't even know. In our political elections, voters have the same problem. Familiar names of Smith, Jones, Olson, LaFollette, and Zimmerman are almost absolute winners: Wisconsin.

The time has come to do something about this problem. The answer, of course, is to create districts based upon cribbage membership population. Last year I drew up a plan for six districts. Executive Vice President Lulinski had a plan for five districts. Six or seven years ago there was a plan for division according to the time zones. In any event, there will be a plan or plans submitted to the Board of Directors for discussion in July at the Raleigh meeting.

The Grass Roots program under Jerry Dickinson has drawn up regions to split the record keeping required for the many tournaments that are staged by the chartered clubs every week. Madison Metro #1 plays 40 times during its season, and the average participation is about 36 players a night. That means the scores of about 360 winners will be audited from Madison alone. The Portland, Oregon, club has double that amount. At present, most tournament reports go through Commissioner Dickinson, who verifies them and sends them on to Robert Read to be entered on the computer.

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE
BALLOTS MUST BE POSTMARKED
BY JUNE 15, 1988

Remember when voting: You can vote for fewer than 12 candidates for the Board of Directors, but don't vote for more than 12 or your ballot won't count.

GRASS ROOTS PROGRAM LEADERS NAMED

At the National Grass Roots Convention conducted in Madison, Wisconsin, on April 22, a milestone in the Program was reached when the following regions were identified as being ready to assume decentralized operational control over the Grass Roots Program when the new season commences on September 1, 1988:

Region II (Washington and Oregon)

Commissioner Pat Crozier
Clackamas, OR
Harry Kantas
Sherwood, OR

town level, with only minimum essential supervision and control from the national level, and the efficient and accurate reporting of tournament results to the National Grass Roots Statistician Robert A. Reed. Regional leaders are free to further expand and develop their respective organizational structures to the extent that they feel is necessary to accomplish the purposes of the regional concept.

Region IV (California and Nevada)

Commissioner M.K. (Butch) Reynolds
Santa Maria, CA
Dennis Moore
Saratoga, CA

Decentralization of operational control to the regional level is coming none too soon, as new clubs are being added almost weekly. Clubs recently chartered are:

EDITORIAL

THE ELECTION COMMITTEE

Next month we will publish the results of the elections to the American Cribbage Congress Board of Directors.

Last year the voting response from the membership was at an all-time high, yet only 47% of the ACC members voted. This year we have 21 candidates seeking seats on the BOD.

Almost without exception, every one of you knows, or is knowledgeable about, at least one or two of the members in the running. Take 5 minutes and part with a 25¢ stamp; return your ballot with your vote for the person or persons of your choice. If you haven't yet voted, do so today and let your choices be counted.

Volunteers run our organization; every year for the past couple of years three guys and their families from the Midwest burn the midnight oil in order to collect, count and tabulate the BOD ballot returns.

Dan Weir and Rich Maringer of Green-dale, Wisconsin, and Dan Tofté from Madison have once again set aside personal time to print, label and mail out ballots and to subsequently run the hectic pace of getting the results to CRIBBAGE WORLD for the July issue, with no margin for error.

Thanks to all of you from the ACC membership.

LETTER TO CRIBBAGE WORLD

An open challenge to any cribbage buffs out there -- look me up if you're in the Las Vegas area (702-364-2307). I'll challenge anyone to a 3 out of 5 head-to-head set of games. A lot of people in the Milwaukee area should remember me. I played in many a tournament in that area. So, if anybody gets to the Las Vegas environs, look me up. I'd like to see you, show you around, and play a little cribbage, also.

I just moved out here last December -- from the Wisconsin area -- and love it. The weather is magnificent! Mountains, palm trees, activities, etc. -- just beautiful! Retirement is great! See ya!
