My Deal

by David Aiken

Occasionally someone takes me to task for publishing my playing stats in CW (see box below).

My harshest critics are quick to tell me that it's a publicity stunt. I have no doubt that even a mediocre psychologist could dig up enough evidence somewhere in my twisted psyche to support this claim, but the original impetus for doing this is a bit more nuanced.

When I took this job in January 2007, I had a measly 840 MRPs, while my predecessor—the great DeLynn Colvert—led the league with 12,592 MRPs—nearly fifteen times my total!

People expected me not only to edit the magazine up to the high standards that DeLynn maintained for seventeen years, but—for some strange reason—also to be as good a cribbage player as he was! When opponents faced me, they thought they were playing the next DeLynn, and so they pulled out their A-game. Despite my efforts to persuade them that their B-game or C-game would very likely beat me, they proceeded to pummel me with some regularity.

In a fit of journalistic frenzy, in 2008 I came up with this good-natured way of honoring those who thumped me by the biggest margin each month—and jabbing those whose flights of fancy went off-course.

Over the intervening years, this feature has provided much fun at tournaments. Opponents frequently ask about my biggest loss of the month—and then comment on their plans to top that. Of course, I am contractually obligated to remind them that they can get their name on this page by another method—by being the victim of my biggest victory.

Regardless, the box below provides a small snapshot of data about someone who plays a lot of cribbage and has had a modicum of success at the game. Since I started publishing my stats in October 2008, I've compiled an astoundingly average 3,452–2,987 record—or 53.6%. Truth be told, I'd much rather print the relevant stats for someone named Duane, Wayne, or Donna, but until the ACC tracks every game, this is the best we've got.

Speaking of Duane, when I got fantastic cards and beat him by 43 in Susanville on February 7, I was instructed by friends to make sure that I didn't beat anyone for the rest of the month by a larger mar-

Someone's in the Kitchen

For thirty years or so I have played “quarter kitchen cribbage” with my opponents and have enjoyed this little bit of competition. Each player puts a quarter on the board, and the dealer has to get out of the “kitchen” (15 points) on the first hand to win it. The dealer counts points pegged, hand, and crib to see if he can get a minimum of 16 points. If he has less than 16 points, the pone gets the quarters. And the pone also receives an additional quarter for each hand that the dealer is stuck in the kitchen thereafter. Although the dealer occasionally gets caught in the kitchen twice, only three times in my unaudited records has a dealer got caught three times, until a couple of weeks ago. Beth Widener played quarter kitchen cribbage against Brad Behm in our Appleton Club and got caught four times—a record that I believe will never be broken. However, she returned the following week and double-skunked Brad. Revenge is sweet.

Backward Pegging

I completely agree with Jack Shumate's column [March CW, page 24]. I have always been perplexed by “kinder, gentler” rules-making and judging habits. The backward-pegging problem is one of many mistakes that once begun is obviously exacerbated by the opponent's ignorance or unwillingness to point out. I was at the tournament where the rulebook was conceived, and I know by experience that the rulebook does not exist because of mistakes. It exists because cheaters were taking advantage of honest people. Yes, most instances of mistakes where the rules have to be enforced are simply inadvertent boo-boos. But, cheaters will try to take advantage wherever money is to be won (or stolen), and standardized rules and behaviors insure a happier competition. Maybe we should institute a rule like NASCAR has: “Behavior detrimental to the organization.” To put the onus on the opponent of the person who commits a mistake is unfair, unnecessary, and redundant.

Michael Barrett (Wisconsin Rapids WI)

Touching Cards

Spike Lacombe asked [February CW, page 10] what can be done to stop players from reaching over the board during the pegging of a game and touching the other player's cards. I do this when the other player stacks played cards so as to obscure previously played cards, which violates rule 7.1d requiring that the identity of all played cards be visible. I can't recall anyone ever reaching across to touch my cards, but then I make sure that all played cards are visible.

Tournament Tidbits

Fallbrook Avocado For the third year in a row, a player won their first tournament while munching on avocados. In 2010 it was Shelley Berman (El Cajon CA); in 2011 it was William McGinness (Ocean-side CA); and this year it was Bruce Ave-son (West Covina CA). So . . . if you're still looking for your first tournament win, make plans now to attend the Fallbrook Avocado in 2013!

JPW/ACC Open For the third year in a row, a player named David took second place in the ACC Open consolation. Life Master David Campbell (Parsonsfield ME) played second fiddle in both 2010 and 2011. And this year Grand Master David O'Neil (Clarkston GA) stepped into the runner-up role.

South Sacramento Moose Madness Nancy Rojas (Citrus Heights CA) had a grand slam in the consolation, but Clay Lindgren (Reno NV) edged her out for HQ honors with a better grand slam!

Even though the ACC's #2 player avoided the limelight this month, I look forward to printing Duane's name in the center column. At least, that's how the little fantasy I play in my mind goes! CW

Cribbage Board of the Month

BY JAY FULWIDER

The cribbage board this month is more of a decorative clock for hanging on a wall. It does have a story involving many ACC members.

Sharon Hamilton of the Port Angeles Peggers Club 357 bought a maple burl wood clock in Ketchikan AK. One day when ACC member Ron Gustafson was helping Sharon with some work, she showed him the clock and wondered if he might be able to do something with it. Ron talked with ACC member Chris Christensen, who makes tournament and trophy boards (see my March 2009 column). After fixing the clock, Chris designed and made this “Time for Cribbage” tournament board wall hanging. Ron wrote me about this cribbage clock, and ACC member Jim Duff sent me the photo.

Ron and Jim also passed on a story about Lois Slater, one of the newer members of Port Angeles Peggers. Lois is an ER nurse at Olympic Medical Center in Port Angeles. During breaks at the hospital, Lois wanted to teach some fellow employees the grand old game of cribbage. Not having a board handy, she flattened a medical supply box and drew a cribbage board on the back and began teaching with push pins for pegs. Thanks to Lois for being so resourceful and passing on our favorite game to others.

Jay Fulwider collects cribbage boards in picturesque Washington State. Ideas for and questions about this column may be sent to him at budandotis@msn.com (put “Cribbage Board” in the subject line). For more information on cribbage boards and collecting, visit cribbageboardsonline.com, the Cribbage Board Collectors Society website.

ACC Awards

Frank Ornie
(Drain OR)
Life Master (★) #72

Frank's grandmother, Frona, taught him to play cribbage when he was six years old, and she mentored him in the finer points of the game in later years. He joined the ACC in 1989. A member of Timber Capital Cribbage Club in Roseburg OR, Frank has been club champion twice and has earned his Silver Award. His favorite tournament is the Reno tourney in February, and his toughest opponent is Rick Pierce. Frank enjoys woodworking in his spare time.

Taught by her father, Jeanne learned to play cribbage as a teenager. She joined the ACC in 1999 and is a member of Team Washington Club 39 in Pasco WA. She's earned her Bronze Award, but has never been club champion. (She claims that club members salivate when they see her walk through the door!) Winning the ACC Open in February has to be the highlight of anyone's year, if not one's entire cribbage career, but Jeanne is also very proud of winning the first Rosemary Hendricks Memorial in November. Her cribbage mentor is Jim Langley; and her toughest opponents are Cres Fernandez and Mel Ashley. When not collecting MRPs and tournament wins

Jeanne Jelke
(Pasco WA)
Life Master (★) #74

(seventeen), Jeanne enjoys spending time with her first grandson. She also spends a lot of time driving her cribbage mascot Keshi (a black lab/golden retriever mix) to tournaments up and down the West Coast. Her 2001 Subaru Outback currently has 253,000+ miles on it, and Jeanne hopes one day to beat DeLynn Colvert's mileage record on his Honda Civic!

Earl G. Fox
(Minneapolis MN)
Grand Master #318

Earl joined the ACC in 1990 and is a member of Twin City Peggers in St. Paul MN, where he has earned his Bronze Award. His favorite tournament is normally the St. Croix Classic, but this year his favorite was the Minnesota Snowball, which he won and where he earned his Grand Master. Earl enjoys hunting and fishing, when not bagging cribbage trophies.

John's dad taught him to play cribbage at age six. John joined the ACC in 1988 and belongs to Orlando Cribbage Club 22. He has been club champion four times and has earned his Gold Award. His first tournament win was in Orlando in 1991. Even though his favorite tourney is the National Open in Raleigh, John will always have fond memories of the Georgia Open in Augusta GA this year: not only did he earn his Grand Master there, but he won the Friday night event, was high qualifier in the main, and took second place in the main! John's toughest opponent is David Fournier, who joined the ACC in Orlando just a few weeks after John joined. John is a Vietnam veteran.

The President's Column

by Jeanne Hofbauer

I have just been looking at the Tournament Trail in Cribbage World and found the variety of tournament names to be interesting. So I went to the ACC website and looked at a whole year of tournaments, from August 4, 2011, to July 30, 2012. By arranging the tournaments into categories, here is what I came up with:

- States: Alaska, California, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Hawai'i, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, North Carolina, Oregon, Virginia, Washington
- Cities: Baltimore, Carson City, Crescent City, Detroit, Eau Claire, Edmonton, Green Bay, Kenosha, Kissimmee, Madison, Orlando, Pahrump, Portland, Raleigh, Salem, Shreveport, Sonoma, St. Croix, Woodland
- Geographical features: Black Butte, Cascade, Channel Islands, Devil Mountain, Hampton Roads, Humboldt Bay, Lake Superior, Longest Beach, Mount Rainier, Mount St. Helens, Mountain View, North Pole, Ocean State, Pacific Coast, River City, Space Coast, Three Rivers, Tri-Valley, Wisconsin Rapids
- Directions: Border, Northern, Northwest, Social, South, Southern, West, Western
- Seasons: Fall, March, Midsummer, October, Spring, Summer, Summer End, Winter
- Holidays: Columbus Day, Halloween, Independence Day, Labor Day, New Year's, Santa, St. Patrick's Day, Thanks-

- giving, Valentine's Day, Veterans Day
- People: Abe Kealoha, Bobby Stuart, Bruce Forbes, Daniel Webster, Ed Schweitzer, Finley Family, G&P, George Bickford, Len Wahlig, Martha & Warren, Mick Michaelis, Mike Black, P&G, Schaefer/Steinmetz, Sharlene Medeiros, Tom Winter, Tsarkie
- Foods: Avocado, Brat, Cereal, Peach
- Animals: Roadrunner, Snowbird, Turkey
- Valuables: Emerald, Gem, Gold, Granite, Nugget, Silver Dollar, Topaz
- Miscellaneous: Army, Capital City, Colonial, Cowboy, Crypt, Daffodil, Flood, Grand National 30, Noon Moon, Patriot, Powwow, Saturday, Sunshine, Timber, Yankee

So to misquote Shakespeare: What's in a name? That which we call a tournament by any other name would still be as much fun!

Arizona Long Match

The inaugural Arizona Long Match has been completed, and Roger Grand-george (State Center IA) is the winner, beating Ronald James (Scottsdale AZ) in the finals. The other semifinalists were Kurt Bloeser (Phoenix AZ) and Thomas Halatsis (Mesa AZ). The second annual ALM will get under way in November 2012. If you would like to play, contact ALM director Brion Neeley (bneeley@aztv.com or 480.588.5667) for details.

Tom Chapman

Tom's love for cribbage was second only to his love for his wife and family. He learned to play cribbage from his father, and he taught his wife, four children, their spouses, and all nine grandchildren how to play. Tom and Mitzi retired to Grand Junction CO fifteen years ago and joined the Two Rivers Cribbage Club. He was a true ambassador of the game, teaching new players and encouraging them to love it as he did. Tom had been a U.S. Marine, worked in the industrial tool distribution industry, and during retirement drove rental cars throughout the beautiful state of Colorado. It was on one of these drives that he died suddenly of an aneurysm on January 17. Tom was the ultimate nice guy, husband, father, and grandfather.

Walter R. Devine

Walter R. "Bill" Devine (Canby OR) passed away in September 2011. Born in Olympia WA in 1936, he served in the army during the Korean War. After retiring, cribbage became his passion. He helped the club find a new playing place and always showed up early to sign people in. Bill was always considerate in his love for cribbage. Bill was never club champion, but he was in first place early in the last season he played. While at hospice in the final year of his life, Bill taught the hospice employees how to play cribbage. They were so impressed that they held two cribbage tournaments in Bill's honor. Volunteers like Bill have helped the ACC become successful and will help increase membership.

Lorraine Lowther

Lorraine Lowther (CA) enjoyed cribbage and played every day with her husband.

Lunch was never complete without a game or two. Later, as a widow, when she wasn't entertaining family and playing cribbage, you could find her sitting at the kitchen counter playing cribbage solitaire. She taught children and grandchildren the grand old game, and as an inaugural, 22-year member of the Napa Century 100 Grass Roots Club she earned her Bronze Award and nearly Silver. She also made sure her daughter Cheryl and grandson Garrett played in Grass Roots! She remained mentally sharp to the end, presenting a challenge for all opponents, both in Grass Roots and regular weekend tournaments. We'll miss her immensely. She was a real sweetheart of a lady.

Tim Salmen

Tim Salmen (Waukesha WI) died March 5 at the age of 67 after a long illness. He was an easygoing, fun-loving member of Milwaukee Grass Roots Club 6 for over twenty years and enjoyed traveling cross-country to tournaments. He was a truck driver, member of Teamsters Local 200, and "Grandpa Goofy" to his eight grandchildren.

Al Wilson

Members of Club 168 in West Warwick RI mourn the loss of Alan Wilson who died at the age of 77 in early March after a long battle with a debilitating blood disease. Al was a three time club champion and excelled at garnering points in the GRRTs and GRNTs. He was a dedicated player who will be remembered for his many euphemisms and competitive spirit. His often heard "I need a foot" would echo throughout the room and be repeated by others in need of a winning cut.

Youth Teaching Tip

About a year ago, I featured a great website developed by Brad Gronli. It is such a perfect site for teaching kids cribbage that I want to share it again. Here is how it works. The site flashes a cribbage hand and asks for the point total. It then confirms the correct answer and breaks down the points so it is easy to see. You can access this website by going to clge.com/floridadarts/brad/cribbagetrainer/cribbageTrainer4.php

Youth News

The 19th annual Sierra Youth Cribbage Tournament took place on February 25 in Grass Valley CA. Forty-six youths aged 8 to 17 came with the hopes of winning trophy boards and being crowned 2012 champion of their age group. Thirty enthusiastic youngsters played nine games in the 12 and over group, while fourteen participated in the junior division of 11 and under and played six games. Seventeen year-old Josh Lamora (Chico CA), looking to win his third consecutive title, was high qualifier with an impressive grand slam 22/9 +279. Sherry Guzman (11), from Grass Valley CA, had a grand slam 13/6 +123 in the junior division, which was good for high qualifier honors. Here are the top four in each age group:

	12 and Over	11 and Under
Champ	Kylee Hagan (14), Rio Vista CA	Sherry Guzman (11), Grass Valley CA
2nd	Mitchell Johnson (14), Sacramento CA	Cristina Torres (11), Grass Valley CA
3rd	Alex Evans (17), Grass Valley CA	Alejandra Vides-Austin (9), Lanham MD
4th	Tristan Bacoch (14), Citrus Heights CA	Ivy Macleod (11), Grass Valley CA

Tourney notes:

- For the second straight year, Alejandra Vides-Austin traveled over 3,000 miles from Lanham MD to play!
- A huge thank you to the Sands Regency for a grant that allowed each player to receive a pair of custom pegs. Thanks also to Rich Scott and Joe Lilly for providing pegs at reduced rates.
- Thanks to ACC members Nancy Rojas, Rich Ekman, Don "Grumpy" Howard, and Bob Schmitt for volunteering to help at the event. Couldn't have done it without them.

Club 68 (West Covina CA)—our club has something we call “The New Player Rule,” which has helped us retain new players. The rule has migrated to other clubs and is finding acceptance. Playing nine games in about three hours can be fast for inexperienced players. To allow new players to play faster and not worry about missing points, the West Covina club policy states: “For players new to ACC for the first time: for one month beginning with your first visit, we will make certain that you do not underpeg. Your opponent will show you anything you miss, and you take the points. Other ACC rules will normally be enforced.” submitted by Norm Nikodym

Crook County Club 14 (Pineville OR)—Patti Gossett scored a 28-hand in game eight on February 15 and got a skunk against club director Graeme Gossett! And then ended up with the high card. submitted by Graeme Gossett

Editor's note: I know everybody hates to see club directors get skunked! On the other hand, it is good of directors to help others get good cards every week!

Capitol Club 46 (Salem OR)—William O'Malley had a very nice grand slam 18/9 +77 on February 16 after coming back from the Reno tournament. In the last game Bill was 38 out and dealing to club director Craig Jensen, who was 10 out and comfortably ahead, with a skunk within reach! Bill dealt Craig a 4-hand, while Bill had a 12-hand and 9-crib. In the next deal Bill still needed 16 holes, and Craig was dealing from 5 out. Bill was dealt 4-4-6-J, and—you guessed it—a 5 was cut! Bill pegged 3 holes and won the game to preserve his grand slam! submitted by Craig Jensen

Editor's note: Again, a club director helps a fellow player earn a good score!

Alaska Club 177 (Anchorage AK)—I surprised club members on February 29 by declaring a free-play night in celebration of Leap Year: there was no entry fee but the club would make the standard payouts, and all skunks would get a quarter out of the skunk jar! I was expecting about $100 in payouts, but with a record 18 players on hand, the payout was $160! Good thing Leap Year comes only every four years. submitted by Arlene Carle

Editor's note: Another enterprising director with another way (besides losing) to make players feel like winners!

NOTES FROM CRIBBAGELAND

by JORDAN WIKLUND

For “Coffee John” Sherrell, cribbage is more than a game. It’s a healing method that helps rebuild his mind.

I meet John in his North Minneapolis home on a snowy winter evening. The fire is roaring, and a pair of wrought-iron sconces flicker candlelight around his living room. John hands me a beer and we clink bottles, toasting over the cribbage board. “Here’s to livin’,” he says, and we raise the bottles to our lips. “There’s a lot of young people who don’t know to at least wet your lips when you toast,” he adds, grabbing a deck of cards. “A lot of Germans will take offense to that.”

But John isn’t German. He’s Irish Catholic. And in 2004, on his way to a concert, John suffered a terrible motorcycle accident. “I was a little quaffed up,” he admits. He careened through a two-way stop on his motorcycle and was struck by a vehicle. In the ensuing months, he went through speech therapy, physical therapy, other therapies. “Early on, I had to go from mumbles to slushy words to speaking correctly; I had to learn walk, learn to talk again.” He points to a jagged scar down the side of his head, mostly hidden by his long auburn hair: “This is one of the only signs you can see.” He tells me about the loss of dexterity, coordination, speech, and endurance. “I napped an hour before you got here,” he says. He can’t endure long days without one.

For John, one of the brightest moments of his recovery was when he learned about one way to rebuild and strengthen the neural pathways between the left and right sides of his brain—cribbage. “Cribbage!” he tells me he exclaimed, “I gotta get my grandpa’s board!”

For all the boards I’ve seen, John has one of the best. He plays on a board crafted by his great-grandfather (Orton K. Stark—Irish Catholic). It’s composed of a thin piece of metal riveted to a slab of thick, finished hardwood. One of the sides features a sliding metal tab that hides a space for a deck of cards and four of the original metal pegs. It is over 125 years old.

John is the owner of the Coffee Gallery coffee shop in downtown Minneapolis, where he hosts a traumatic brain injury recovery workshop every week or so. Cribbage is part of the workshop. “If we stick together and help each other out,” he says, “we’ll get through this crazy-ass thing called life.”

I sip a little beer, nod my head to the Dylan streaming from his stereo. “Your move,” he says. CW

A writer living in St. Paul MN, Jordan is working on a book, Cribbage: The People, Craft, and Culture of a Curious Game. Read more about it at cribbageland.com or on Facebook and Twitter @JordanWiklund.

COOL STUFF WE FOUND ON THE WEB

oakdale.patch.com For six years Don Novak and John Henke, affectionately known as “The Grandpas,” have taught cribbage to third-graders at Castle Elementary in Oakdale MN. The once-a-week classes begin just after Christmas break and culminate with a championship tournament the day before spring break. pressrepublican.com A March 15 story featured a group of players who spend every morning from 8:30 to 10:30, Monday through Saturday, playing cribbage at the food court in the Champlain Centre shopping mall in Plattsburgh NY.
