THE PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

Joseph P. Wergin

Radio Report

People just don't like to call a telephone number and hear a recorded message to leave their name and address and/or telephone number. This applies especially to older people.

In the public relations attempt to attract cribbage players through the use of an 800 number, there were 275 calls to the recording device where people hung up and did not leave a message. It would be too expensive to answer 800 calls, because cribbage people like to talk. So, the 800 line was plugged and in the future we shall request people to write to a box number. We live and we learn!

#

Charlie Steinhauer of Mt. Horeb, Wisconsin, has been teaching his nine-year-old son and seven-year-old daughter to play cribbage. A few weeks ago he sent the kids to bed and they went so quietly and not a sound was heard from the bedrooms. So, Charlie figured that they were up to something.

He checked and found each of them playing cribbage solitaire under the covers with flashlights. It appears that the kids are "hooked" on the game.

#

While we are on the subject of kids and cribbage, if you know of a school teacher who would like to introduce students to cribbage, I have a brochure that can be used as a teaching aid. And, to the teachers who have a program, a copy of their lesson plans would be appreciated.

A REMINDER TO TOURNAMENT DIRECTORS

If you want to give your tournament a little publicity, either before or after or both, we're always pleased to insert an article in CRIBBAGE WORLD. You write a little release, and we'll publish it.

Let's all get on the public relations bandwagon and advertise the Congress in all newspaper releases. Copies of three feature articles were recently forwarded to me. Not one of them mentioned the American Cribbage Congress. When you are interviewed, be sure that the Congress is mentioned in the article.

CHARITY AND THE ACC

At the Annual Meeting of the Board of Directors in Raleigh July 29, President Joe Wergin called attention to the fact that the Congress is, in a way, a philanthropic agency but does not receive credit for thousands of dollars that members donate to various charities.

In his remarks to the Board, the President said: "At the satellite tournaments our members are often required to donate to charitable groups, and the Congress should also receive credit. It is my suggestion," continued the President, "that all managers handling such funds enter in their tournament reports the amounts collected and also name the charity receiving these donations. We should demonstrate to the IRS and to the public that we are not only a nonprofit organization but that we are also philanthropic."

A motion was made by Director Jim Law and seconded by Bob Plourde that the amounts given to charity be published in CRIBBAGE WORLD. The motion carried unanimously.

It was suggested that the reports be made retroactive to September 1, 1987, and be filed with Executive Vice President Syl Lulinski.

LETTER TO CRIBBAGE WORLD

We have recently moved to Port Townsend, Washington, from California; a beautiful, boat-oriented town that I knew would yield many crib players. Alas, not too much going on up here. Having run a small non-sanctioned tourney for many years in New Mexico, I worked up a Grass Roots game at a local pub. One of my first responses? Special Agent Jones from the State Gambling Commission. Seems there are differing laws everywhere, and in Washington a specific license is required for such card games. Back to the drawing board.

Meanwhile, imagine my dismay and utter disgust upon hearing the following radio spot for a "Major Foreign Car Co." that went something like this:

VOICE OVER

He's a real man. He drives a real truck. He doesn't care about a little mud on his fenders and he doesn't play crib.

WHAT??? Everyone knows crib is a game that attracts intellects, macho truck-drivin' dudes and, yes, even housewives like myself. Cool those ads and get back to picking on quiche.

Peg on,
Tina McMaster
Port Townsend, WA

P.S. ACC memberships make great gifts ... for young and old. I've signed up just about my whole family.

LETTER TO CRIBBAGE WORLD

Mostly wanted you to know how much I enjoy getting CRIBBAGE WORLD - enjoyable reading and each issue gets more informative.

We were fortunate here in this area (Tempe/Mesa/Apache Junction) to have had Joe Wergin with us a couple of years ago and missed his not being here this past winter. He made a dent with 4 or 5 of us in Tempe, but we really need a "motivator" to get a club started. We have between 18 and 20 "regular" cribbage players who play on Mondays at our Adult Center, but only 4 or 5 of us go to Charlie Fletchall's tournaments in Apache Junction. I'd like to find out how you ORGANIZE a club.

Happily, Charlie will be back in town in another month or so, and I know I can count on him ... I want to let you know that he is one of the finest gentlemen I've ever met, and he runs an outstanding tournament!

Happy pegging - and, you know, don't you? "Old cribbage players never die, they just 'Go'..."

LETTER TO CRIBBAGE WORLD

I caught your comment about international cribbage, especially Japanese and Chinese. The write-up is in Volume IX, Number 7, July 1988.

As an Air Force officer, I pulled duty on Erimozaki, an island off the west coast of Hokkaido, northern Japan. During that tour I made friends with the local honchos (police chief, fire chief, etc.) and though we had language difficulties, we had many wonderful cribbage matches. All the people I met there played very well. Also, I met locals on Honshu (off the beaten track) who played our game. I believe cribbage to be international now.

If Japan has a "Chamber of Commerce," that may be a starting point.

At any rate, if we can start something like this, be ready for stiff competition!!

29s to you,
Ross P. McKinney
Austin, TX

AMERICAN CRIBBAGE CONGRESS HALL OF FAME

Sir John Suckling, alleged gambler, rake and a fighting knight in his king's service, was one of the men elected to the ACC Hall of Fame some 300 years after he invented the game of cribbage. Others inducted include some of the founding fathers of the ACC as well as with a history of many years of service to the game predating the ACC. No women have as yet been inducted.

Elections for the Hall of Fame are held at the ACC Annual Meeting in Raleigh. No one was elected this year, although nominees obtaining at least 5 votes, of the 17 required (80% of the Directors in attendance), included such ACC luminaries as Syl Lulinski, John Chambers, DeLynn Colvert and Dale Munroe.

Director and ACC Parliamentarian Dick Graham offered an interesting comment when he stated, "Normally, election to a Hall of Fame is near the end of an individual's career in a given area."

What we seem to be doing is having a mutual admiration meeting and/or recognizing that an individual is making a current contribution to the ACC. This area was considered in adopting the 1987 reorganization. Although it has not been a major issue, the trend makes it obvious that a committee to establish Hall of Fame guidelines and procedures should be established, as authorized in the ACC By-laws under Article III, d. (5). To do less is to be less than respectful to what should be the highest honor available to an ACC member.

TRIBUTE TO GENE MILLER

Honorary All-American status for 1988 was conferred on the late Gene Miller of Florence, Montana, by recent unanimous action of the ACC Board of Directors.

Miller, winner of the 1985 Tournament of Champions and 1987 Western Open champ, was currently ranked in the Top 10 nationally when he passed away from a heart attack while returning home from the Redmond, Oregon, Cascade Classic.

A KINDLY REMINDER

For those of you whose dues were payable on September 1 and who have not yet paid, please do so. This will be the last month that CRIBBAGE WORLD can be sent to you -- our expenses are many and our budget is limited!! This is no way to part company; we want you as a member and we're talking less than 14¢ a week.

CRIBBAGE MASTER

CRIBBAGE MASTER is a cribbage program for your IBM PC-compatible home computer. Play game against computer. Or select from other play options. Ex.: You can specify a deal for analysis or request random deals, and Discard Query/Master determines best discards--and your discarding "batting average"--by using probability analysis. Excellent feedback. Seen at the 1985 National Open, Raleigh. See 1986 Grand National program (Minneapolis, MN).

POTAWATOMI PEGGERS POWWOW

Tournament Director Jeff Shimp is feverishly seeking a playing location for his first tournament to be held on December 2-4, 1988. As we go to press in October, he is running into holiday party conflicts, but he states he's not becoming discouraged and will find function rooms somewhere. In the meantime, you Midwesterners hold that week-end open. For up-to-the-minute info, call Jeff at 616-673-4550; we'll have an update in the November issue.

FRANK FORSHEE WINS MICHIGAN CRIBBAGE TOURNAMENT

Frank Forshee, 92 years of age, was the first to register and topped all entrants in the cribbage tournament during Dexter Daze-88, winning every game to qualify for a cash prize.

The August tournament organizers, Harriet and Tom Haight, explained that was a total of 14 player participants and funds collected, the $1 entry fees, were entirely returned as cash prizes for the winners.

With only one loss, Mike Hayes was the runner up. Dee Garlick took third place.

Other entries included Mary Boullion, Magdalen Ulrich, Karen Amsdill, Walter Nickell, Erin Hewker, Mike Hewker, Vivian O'Malley, Patrick O'Malley, Vic Mammel, Tim Mammel and Tom Haight, who filled in to make the total number of players an even one.

Harriet Haight said she would be pleased to share information on Grass Roots cribbage conducted this fall, in which people might play once a month or bimonthly, according to personal choice.

All levels of competition are included in the tournament, beginner to near pro, with results tabulated and reviewed at the finish of the tourney, under supervision of the American Cribbage Congress.

NORTHEAST TOURNAMENTS CONTINUE TO BE INNOVATIVE

Tournaments in the Northeast Cribbage Association region (New England plus New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania) continue to demonstrate that tournament directors can be innovative within existing regulations. The goal is to make the tournaments more interesting to the contestants.

1. Tournaments have single game matches in the qualifying rounds giving players opportunities to meet more contestants. This creates a fairer test for everyone and increases the social interplay that should be one of our goals.
2. Tournaments now pay $25 to anyone holding a 28 hand in the main tournament or the consolation. This is financed by withholding 25¢ from each consolation entry and putting those funds in the Association treasury. This has increased interest.
3. Tournaments are guaranteeing a pay-off to everyone finishing in the top 1 out of 8 in the qualifying round. This is separate from the payout to those players knocked out in the elimination round.
4. Two-day tournaments are paying the top qualifier (out of the money) in the second half of qualifying play. This serves to give players who have done poorly in the first half the incentive to continue a 100% effort in the second half of the qualifying round.

Items 3 and 4 are in use on an experimental basis.

These items are offered to demonstrate that there are many ways, as yet untried, to improve tournaments.
