A PITCH FOR 19

by Joseph Frey (Chicago IL)

As the Grass Roots season starts up, my attention shifts from the greatest card game ever devised to the postseason of the greatest sport ever devised. It only makes sense. Baseball, like cribbage, appeals to my sense of order, my delight in caprice, and my appreciation of adaptability.

Immutable axioms make both baseball and cribbage still recognizable to those who first played them. Balls and strikes, 15 and 31, these haven't changed. Yet despite overarching order, both games have inexplicable idiosyncrasies. Why, for example, isn't a foul tip always treated as a foul ball? In cribbage? Consider knobs. New understanding of each game has also occasioned evolutionary changes to both. In baseball, runners advancing between bases are no longer called out when hit by a ball thrown by a fielder. In cribbage, the game doubled in length. (See the March 2012 Cribbage World, page 20.) I think we all agree that these were positive changes.

So, with all this in mind, I make a (very) modest proposal. The 19 Rule: a sum of the face value of the four cards in the crib and the starter card that adds up to 19 counts as 1 point for the pone, scored after the dealer's

My Deal

by David Aiken

Parents know how important it is for kids to play. Play is essential for both body and brain development, and healthy playtime leads to healthy adulthood. An npr.org article (search for “Adults Need Recess”) makes the case that adults should also play.

Why? Psychiatrist Stuart Brown, head of the National Institute for Play, answers: “Play is something done for its own sake. It’s voluntary, it’s pleasurable, it offers a sense of engagement. . . . And the act itself is more important than the outcome.”

Looked at another way, play teaches empathy, how to communicate with others, and how to roll with the punches. It builds a sense of community, helps maintain our social well-being, and allows us to connect with others. It also contributes to our staying sharp.

Cribbage players know all of this, and that’s why every weekend, somewhere around the country, ACC members get together and play a tournament. And every single hour of every single day of the year, someone is playing cribbage at club, at the kitchen table, or in a bar.

While our individual reasons for playing cribbage may vary widely—to improve our game, to stay sharp mentally, to social-ize, to earn points, to earn prizes, and so on—we need to make sure that the emphasis on points and prizes doesn’t lead to a misplaced focus on what we are doing.

When we’re chasing points to reach the next award level or to finish in the top eight in our region, it sometimes becomes hard to smile as you lose the last five games of the day and don’t qualify. It is even harder to enjoy cribbage when you lose every game in the afternoon after having 25 points at lunchtime. And it is hardest to focus on the fun aspect of cribbage when you miss qualifying for the fourteenth main in a row. (I know—because all of these have happened to me.)

But regardless of what cribbage struggles we may temporarily be going through, it is vital that every player enjoy the game. If you need to go outside and vent, or take some time off from club or the Tournament Trail, then do it. Just don’t take out your frustration on fellow players.

Do whatever you need to do to remind yourself that cribbage is a game. And let’s all enjoy cribbage because it is a game. Yes, winning is fun, but don’t take the game of cribbage too seriously. CW

Declining Attendance

I often read in Cribbage World that attendance is going down in Grass Roots and tournament play. Here is one of the reasons. I played in the Steinmetz/Frosty Shuffle on August 1. My opponent was a judge that I respected very much since I started playing in the ACC in 1983. I was dealing, and both of us were on third street. My opponent pick up the deck and put their hand on the bottom, forgetting to count the hand. My opponent then removed the four cards from the bottom of the deck and counted and pegged the hand. I was shocked and amazed that a judge would do this. I decided to not call a judge, but to write this letter instead. (Note: I'm not a sore loser, as I won the game.) If a new player had done this, I would've warned them and told him/her what the rule on this is. But an experienced judge should know better. This happened to me last year in Marinette WI when I accidentally put my hand in the deck before counting it; I said a few choice words and continued to shuffle. Because of this incident, when I need a judge in the future, I do not want this judge to make the ruling since they do not know the rules.

Bracketed Payouts

I'm interested in people's take on bracketing of payouts in round-robin tournaments. Most of the round robins I play are fairly small, and the director can pick a payout for last place and increasingly add to each level up to the top. But for larger tournaments you have to bracket the payouts. My question is, at what point do you use bracketed payouts: at 64 players, at 100, where? And how do you bracket? Something like this: last place and up to next multiple of four players gets 1.5 their entry; the next group of four gets $10 more than that; the next four get $10 more than that; and on up to some point, where you stop bracketing (top 16? top 12?). Is there any consistency or guidelines among the larger round-robin tournaments as to how this is handled?

Cribbage Clothing

My wife, Margaret Christensen, and I are a serious cribbage couple. We met at Grass Roots in Crescent City CA, and I proposed to her at the Antioch Valentine Day tournament this year. As serious players, we wear ACC cribbage clothing when we travel, particularly tournament shirts and Grass Roots jackets. On a recent cruise, our clothing attracted inquiries from a half dozen guests, prompting us to provide info on the ACC and Grass Roots program. We obtained their email addresses and will be

West Coast Streak4 Life Master Tom Langford (McKinleyville CA) is riding a hot streak. After scoring over 400 MRPs in July, he earned points in five of his first six events in August! He won three tourneys (a main and two cons), was high qualifier twice, and also collected a third place and a second place.

Frosty/Steinmetz Shuffle Master Lana Newhouse (Neenah WI) and her father, Grand Master Jerry Newhouse (Appleton WI), didn't have a great weekend at the doubleheader in Slinger WI, and so they decided to skip the Sunday consolation. But, like many consolations on the backend of a doubleheader, it looked like the tourney wouldn't hit the minimum of 17 players to qualify as a sanctioned tourney, so Lana and Jerry came back after lunch to ensure that there were enough players. And their altruism was rewarded: Lana was high qualifier and took second place, while Jerry was low qualifier and won the tournament. No one knows what Lana said to her dad after he beat her in the finals, but CW guesses that he should expect a lump of coal in his Christmas stocking!

Madison Masters Life Master (★) David Campbell (Parsonsfield ME) evidently likes playing in the Midwest. He won the Madison Masters main for the second year in a row.

Peach State Classic Jacob French (Atlanta GA) qualified for the first time in a sanctioned event and went on to win the tournament. Meanwhile, experienced pro Life Master (★) Larry Phifer (Raleigh NC) went four-for-four: third on Friday night, fifth in the main, fifth on Saturday night, second in the consolation.

Brat Stop Open Master Donald Urban (Marengo IL) and Master Daniel Betz (Muskegon MI) both held 2-2-4-4 in the opening deal of their game in the consolation. Betz pegged 12 points, and Urban pegged 29 points out of the gate! Betz got the last laugh, however, as he both won the game and qualified for the playoffs.

Jack learned to play cribbage back in the 1980s from Bob Brumley, who remains his cribbage mentor to this day. A member of Silver Dollar Club 156 in Sunnyside WA, Jack has been club champion four times and has earned his Silver Award. He has won 26 tournaments on the circuit and looks to the Sunnyside tourney—where he earned his second star—as his favorite. His toughest opponent is Duane Toll. Noncribbage interests include ranching and homebuilding. Tidbit of the day: Jack Morrow, son of James and Cher, is named after Moritzky.

Heidi learned to play cribbage as a kid. Her swim team consisted not only of swimmers but also highly competitive card sharks.

Every summer from about age six into their teens, they played cribbage, other card games, and dominos. She doesn't know what happened to the rest of the swimmers, but Heidi earned her lunch money in college playing this incredible game. She joined the ACC in the mid-1980s when she met Jesse Jarrell at a party and he discovered she loved the game. He had just won the World Championship Tournament in Quincy CA, so they sat down and played, and Heidi beat him six games in a row on his championship trophy board! She and Jesse started the Fourth Street Terrorists cribbage club, and Jesse became her mentor. Her favorite tournament was winning the 1999 National Long Match by beating Jason Shumate, Jesse Jarrell, Bob Julian, Bill Shoemaker, and Rob Medeiros. Her toughest opponent through the years has been Harold Sontag. Heidi loves to read murder mysteries, high adventure novels, science fiction, anything with lots of action and superfluous sex and violence. She also loves movies of the same genre, dining out, and buying new clothes.

Dave learned to play cribbage from a friend at a Super Bowl party when he was living in Dallas in the early 1980s. Only problem is, he learned that you could cut to a flush; for example, three hearts in the hand plus a heart cut gave—voilà!—four points for a flush. The ACC straightened out this misconception when he joined the Grand Rapids Square Peggery in 1998. Dave has been club champion twice and by time you read this may have gotten the final 3 GRPs he needs for his Silver Award. He has won nine tournaments and Dave's toughest opponents are Keith Widener, Doug Henderson, and Jerry Gruber. Dave's noncribbage hobbies include crossword puzzles, reading, and not shaving.

Cribbage Board of the Month

BY JAY FULWIDER

This month features a board owned by ACC member Trevert Shelley (Stevensville MT). (The photo is of my almost identical board.) The story of Trevert's board is the important part, so I reprint it here as Trevert sent it to me:

In the early 1980s I befriended an older WWII veteran who had served in the Pacific for most of the war years. With the fall of Japan in 1945 he was assigned to MacArthur's occupation force in Tokyo. Being a lifelong cribbage player, boards always caught his eye wherever he was. This particular board he found in what we would probably call a curio shop in Tokyo. It was intended to catch the eye of a U.S. serviceman; inside is a paper stating "Cribbage Board Design; Happy gods." Also, "Guarantee to be made of genuine ivory tusk." K. Hodota & Co., 63 Mi-harudai, Yokohama.

The old vet was single and quite impoverished, I used to invite him to our place for dinner on occasion, and we'd play crib and he'd tell me some of his war stories. One day when he came to our place he gave me the bad news that he was terminally ill. He brought this crib board with him and said he wanted to play a few more games on it before he died. When he left, he insisted I take the board as he had no living relatives and said I was the only person that ever gave him the time of day. He brought me to tears, but I kept the board and think of him often. . . . I never saw him again.

This board is made

Jay Fulwider roots for the world champion Seattle Seahawks to repeat and collects cribbage boards in picturesque Washington State. crib is determined to have no points.

This simple change logically contributes to the game's quirks and grants respectability to a maligned integer. We all know that the formula for calculating points arithmetically precludes a 19 score, interrupting the unbroken string of possibilities, leaving only the statistical outliers of 28 and 29 beyond the uninterrupted roll of tallies. The 19 Rule celebrates this oddity of arithmetic, while respecting the game's basic calculus through a new synthesis of it.

This is no dramatic alteration like the designated hitter, no reformulation of scoring to allow a 19 count. It's a subtle rebalance, like the amendment to an existing baseball rule outlawing "a flying start from a position in back of [a] base" to advance on a caught fly ball. (See MLB Official Baseball Rules, 2014 edition, Rule 7.10(a) Comment, page 70.)

So, to purists who cry "Blasphemy," I say "Hardly." To support my case I appeal to Sir John Suckling, creator of cribbage. A keen observer of the game's subtleties, he would, I think, approve of the 19 Rule and would even consider it an oversight in his own devising of cribbage. I'm certain that if he traveled through time to see his game still played with the 19 Rule, he'd give himself the seventeenth-century equivalent of a why-didn't-I-think-of-that? palm to the forehead. And to close my case, I quote Sir Suckling's very own words, from his play Aglaura:

But as when an authentic watch is shown,

Each man winds up and rectifies his own,

So in our very judgments. CW of elephant ivory and is one of the fancier souvenir boards sold in Japan following WW II. Trevert's board and story are very special, so I hope he will keep this article with it and pass the board on to someone who will treasure it.

One other note that Trevert added was: "Mike Rowe beat the socks off me on my own 'special' board." Mike, from Soldotna AK, travels around the country playing cribbage. He has been on the ACC All American team, and I am sure that many of you have played against him. Also, I am fairly sure that Trevert and I are not the only ones who have had their socks beaten off by Mike. CW

IN MEMORY OF OUR FRIENDS

Eugene L. Gorlewski

Gene Gorlewski (New Britain CT) was one of the original members of Hartford Metro Club 26. He was a club champion at least once in the late 1980s and earned his Bronze Award. A career newspaper man who eventually became city editor of the New Britain Herald, Gene assisted Dale Monroe and Bob Plourde in the publication of Cribbage World in the 1980s. When Gene was promoted to city editor, he no longer attended Grass Roots on a regular basis.

Gaylord E. Matti

Gaylord Matti (Madison WI) passed away at age 89 on August 7. As one of the first group of players in Grass Roots Club 1 in Madison, he directed the Madison Masters tournament for many years. Gaylord has earned both his Bronze Award and his Grand Master rating. He served in World War II in both the army and merchant marines. For the past twenty-six years, he wintered in Naples FL and was a member of the American Volkssport Association. He traveled across the country and logged 3,500 kilometers walking in some 275 events. Gaylord loved cribbage and was both modest and friendly while competing with the many friends he made over the years. He will be missed and remembered by fellow peggers. Gaylord is survived by his wife of sixty-three years, Anne, who is also an ACC member.

TOC INVITATIONS

by Donald Hannula (TOC Director)

Summer is over, Labor Day has passed, the Grass Roots season is starting, and by time you read this the Grand National will be over, along with the Board of Directors' meeting. Soon the list of over 1,800 participants will be out for the Tournament of Champions to be held at the Sands Regency in Reno NV on February 6, 2015.

Lifetime invitees (second-year Grass Roots Bronze and above or second-year Master and above) will not receive a formal invitation by post or email. A list of invitees will be posted on the ACC website once compiled.

Grass Roots directors: as you sign up your members, please update the email address, which is vital for sending out invitations to those with first-year eligibility. Club directors who are willing to provide copies of the TOC invitation and president's letter to those without computer access should contact me and I will send these via email. The goal is to cut down on postal mail as much as possible; postage is expensive, especially to Canada. Last year we cut expenses by over $600. With some help we can reduce expenses even more.

One last item: What makes Reno the success that it is? The volunteers: they come from all over the United States and Canada, work long hours, and don't get paid. In total, over 120 people help with tabulation, setup and supplies, judging, clerical, and paymasters. This past year, we were short in the clerical department. Anyone who would be willing to volunteer for the 2015 TOC, please email me at dhannula@chartermi.net.

The President's Column

by Jeanne Hofbauer

The ACC exists because we have so many willing volunteers helping to keep us up and running. No matter what we do, we can never fully recognize and celebrate them. So many of them just do what they do, month after month, neither asking for praise nor receiving it. They are often behind the scenes, and not many of us even realize all of their contributions. I would like to take this opportunity to say a big thank you to them on behalf of all the members of the ACC.

We also need to remember that while we are encouraging people to volunteer, we must be prepared to train them. We sometimes get comfortable using the same volunteers again and again, and forget that there are people on the sidelines who would be glad to help, but don't know what to do or how to get involved. Everyone who works for the ACC should endeavor to train a backup. Life is uncertain, and it is better to be prepared.

Grass Roots and tournament directors, please look at your "local talent." Are there people in your club or area that want to get involved? Teach them how to cross-check scorecards, run a side event, set up a room, do a report, run a raffle, or anything to help them lend those "willing hands."

Next summer, we will be electing a new Board of Directors. I am encouraging any of you out there who have a real interest to start thinking about running. I have heard from a few current BOD members who will probably not run for election this next term, so there will be vacancies. Remember that you will be expected to travel to the meetings and to pay your own expenses.

We all hope that this organization stretches far into the future, and volunteerism is a huge part in attaining that goal. So, to all of you past, present, and future volunteers: you have my gratitude, appreciation, and esteem! Or to quote ACC member Marv Lang, "Thank you for serving!"

GAME ON

by Dan Zeisler

Youth Teaching Tip

One of the challenges of teaching cribbage to kids is that they are naturally active and cribbage is a sedentary game. Recognizing this and wanting to add a twist to the game, I've come up with something I call cribbercising. After students can play a fluent game of cribbage, I impose the following rule: anytime a person scores a twelve-point hand or higher, he/she can decide whether they or their opponent do ten quick pushups. My class has a ton of fun with this, and as they play cribbage, they are also getting their much needed exercise. Ever thought about doing this at home as a way of getting into shape? Variations to pushups might be running up and down the stairs or taking a quick lap around the yard. Come on everybody, it's time to Cribbercise!

Youth News

Tournament director of the second annual Fall Youth Cribbage Tournament Don Howard now has another successful youth event to be proud of. On August 24 play was held in the greater Sacramento area. Attendance was low, but the level of quality cribbage play was high. There were five players in the 11-and-under group, and five played in the 12-and-older division. Here are the results:

		12-and-Over	11-and-Under
main	champ	Sam Malicoat	Austin Gregson
	2nd	Zack Gregson	Melissa O'Neil
consolation	champ	Cody Selig
	2nd	Abigail Richards

Teaching Manuals

Recent requests for youth teaching manuals were received from the following people. Watch for a youth boom in these areas!

Timber Capitol Club 62 (Roseburg OR)—the summer session saw two grand slams: Bob Hartzell on June 24 and Gerald Hahn Jr. on August 12. Our club will assist Tracy Meyer with her third annual youth group at Fremont Middle School, starting on September 9 for a month and resuming in February. A youth tournament will take place at the end of the school year. The future of the ACC depends on reaching out to the youth, and that is what our club is trying to do. A youth from last year's class joined our club, which makes two in two years. They are very well mannered and capable of taking on the old pros. Happy cribbage to everyone in the new year. submitted by Jerry Hahn

Lone Star Club 106 (Dallas TX)—on August 27 one of our newer members, Robert E. Smith, celebrated the end of his first full season as part of our group by having his first ever 28-hand. On September 3 we welcomed a brand new member, Dana Wenzel, to both our club and the ACC. She sure wrapped up her first official grass roots tournament in style. On her very last hand of her last game, Dana had her first ever 29-hand. Wow, what a way to start! submitted by Scott Buhrow

Raleigh Club 58 (Raleigh NC) began the new season on September 1 with some folks having great cards. Kristy Haught had her first 28-hand. (She had a 29-hand last year.) Russ Perkins scored a 21-point grand slam, leaving his wife Catherine in second place. On September 8 the club celebrated Dot Davis's ninetieth birthday. Dot is a charter member of the ACC and has played with Club 58 since its inception in 1986. submitted by Catherine Perkins

Fun 4 All Ages Club 405 (Antioch CA) is a brand-new Grass Roots Lite club. At its first tourney in September, the combined age of the six players in attendance was 54. The parent club, coincidentally Club #54, has exactly one member who is younger than 54! submitted by Paul Gregson

Silver Dollar Club 156 (Sunnyside WA) started the year off with a dinner awards night, and seventeen members signed up. Welcome back Doris Foster and welcome new player Diego Alvarez. Twelve-year-old Bailey Duis, who also plays basketball and volleyball, was crowned the summer champion. We look forward to having her play when she can throughout the year. submitted by James Morrow

Orange County Club 227 (Laguna Woods CA)—on September 3 Paul Yellon hit the first 24-hand of the night on his way to first place in the first meeting of the season. In their sixth game Lee Foglesong was 28 points out and Steve Yellon was dealing from 3 points out. Steve says to Lee, “All you need now is a 28-hand and to keep me from pegging out.” Lee hit his 28, and Steve pegged one lone point! We would like to invite any and all cribbage players to come on Wednesdays. We start playing promptly at 6pm. If you would like to try us out, you are welcome to come and play for free for the first four weeks. Snacks are always free to everyone. submitted by Paul Yellon

Christopher’s Crusaders Club 43 (Fremont CA)—good luck to everyone on a new season. We would like to welcome new members Craig Rothbach and Lyle Lydick to our club. We are glad to see that those who took the summer off are returning to play. Cutting for the deal in week two, Ira Deutsch cut the Ace of Hearts while Winnie Froomin cut the Ace of Spades. After reshuffling, Ira cut the Ace of Spades and Winnie cut the Ace of Hearts. What are the odds? If you are looking to have some fun this season, come by and play with us at Club 43. submitted by Marty Froomin

Edmonton Peggars Club 261 (Edmonton AB) welcomes back Marilyn Wynnyk this season, and she promptly took first place on the opening night with a 17-point card for her first career GRPs. Young Eric Pankiw didn’t let age be a factor as he nabbed first place on the second week of play. Eric just started tenth grade this fall. Congrats to both! submitted by Gary Wirth

Square Peggars Club 91 (Grand Rapids MI)—club member Bill Homrich has an out-of-this-world niece: astronaut candidate (class of 2013) Christina (Tina) Hammock. While visiting in the Houston area to celebrate their granddaughter’s third birthday, Bill and wife Laura met up with Tina near the Air Force base where she is training. Bill gave Tina her first flight in his small plane many years ago and had hoped for a reciprocal ride in Tina’s T-38 training simulator, but it didn’t work out on this trip. He did, however, ask Tina to sign a picture for Club 91. Let’s hope that Tina gets the chance to “take cribbage out of this world”! submitted by Dave Aiken

HSV Club 359 (Hot Springs Village AR) welcomed a new member, J. D. Turner, who played with the club over the summer. The second night of the season found two club members, Don Elsenheimer and Terry Gainor, cutting the right card to get 28-hands. David Schoenhaar and Gary Brandt also received their Bronze Awards and certificates. The cover of the October 1989 Cribbage World lauded the win of Harvey Honeycutt (Beatty OR) in the Grand National main and of Jim Clark (Salem OR) in the consolation. The Prineville OR Grand National was the largest to date, with 442 in attendance.

Elsewhere we read that John Chambers (Smithfield RI) won the Maine Open main, Lee Norris (North Kingstown RI) won the Maine Open consolation, Warren Sondericker (Milwaukee WI) won the National Open consolation, and Jones Hom (Fairfield CA) won the Fairfield main.

Hard Copy

If you don't want a hard copy of Cribbage World mailed to you and would rather read it only online, let Larry Hassett know at acc@cmspan.net. He'll remove you from the monthly mailing list to help save the ACC money and to save a tree or two. Don't worry—you'll still get the ballot issue in the spring of odd-numbered years.

Suggestions for Old CWs

When you're done with Cribbage World, instead of tossing it in the recycle bin, how about passing it on to a potential member? Leave back issues of CW at the doctor's office, laundromat, RV park, senior center, service club, library, barbershop—anywhere that people have time to kill. Get creative and see what happens! Extra copies of Cribbage World are available free of charge. Contact CW (address on page 3) for more info.
