

CRIBBAGE WORLD

VOLUME 8 NUMBER 4 APRIL 1987

MEMBERSHIP MILESTONE REACHED

For the first time membership has broken through the 4,000 barrier, and the numbers increase each and every month. There are other positive signs of continued good health as new names appear on the Master Point listing, new tournaments show up on the Tournament Trail, Grass Roots clubs are being added each month, and new candidates are seeking

BOD positions.

This month we are featuring more letters from members telling of their interests, as well as responses to past articles involving particular issues where there may be differences of opinion. All of this, we feel, is healthy and continues to perpetuate the spirit of competition and interest in the great old game.

AUTOBIOGRAPHIES REQUESTED FROM THOSE RUNNING FOR ACC BOD

In the May issue of CRIBBAGE WORLD we'll print the autobiographies of those interested in running for the ACC Board of Directors.

Last year 28 of the 31 who ran for office responded to our request. Send a brief 30-word description of yourself, include what you do and any goals you may have for the ACC and would like to see accomplished if you were to be elected.

Send your autobiography by April 20 to:

INDIVIDUAL CRIBBAGE PEGS ARE CATCHING ON

Ken Capper of Hermonston, Oregon, thought he'd try his hand at making cribbage pegs after he noticed several players in the Northwest had begun using their own in cribbage tournaments and Grass Roots Clubs. He states, "I noticed several players were using gold and silver pegs—some even with diamonds and rubies mounted in them. People commented on how pretty they were. However, most people, including my wife Betty and me, were reluctant to spend that much money for cribbage pegs."

After much thought and a lot of experimenting and mistakes with aluminum materials, Ken finally settled on aluminum anodized in many different colors. "I showed them to some friends and immediately they wanted me to make them a pair. The next tournament we

THE PRESIDENTS COLUMN

Joseph Petrus Wergin

Did you ever get your name on the front page of a newspaper? Well, I did. Not only that, but I got the WHOLE front page for Congress Cribbage and for Johnny Cribbageseed. Opal Johnson, publisher and editor of the WINTER RESIDENT INDEPENDENT, devoted the page to our activities and estimated the dollar value to be $50,000. Ken Peterson, writer for the Monterey, California, HERALD, came up with that Johnny Cribbageseed nickname.

Took a break of one week in March from Arizona winter residence and returned to Madison to see the High School Basketball Tournament for the 65th year since 1921, having missed two years because of military service. The main reason for the break was the hospitalization of Marguerite, who inspired the writing of the textbook and who directed Joe into the great cribbage career.

Crib players who indulge in the three-attended was in Baker, Oregon, and I sold the 20 pair of pegs I had made and took orders for more. I was encouraged by many people to make them available nationwide. So what started out as a small hobby has developed into a big hobby. Betty makes the vinyl cases and does the letter answering and shipping."

Ken concluded by saying he hopes to retire from his real estate business in three or four years. "Betty and I will hop in our motorhome and attend all the clubs and tournaments across the country. We've met some super people, and we're looking forward to meeting many more who play this great game of cribbage."

Editor's Note:

See the January issue of CRIBBAGE WORLD for the advertisement for Capper Cribbage Pegs. Capper pegs sell for $7 per pair and come in nine different colors. Ken and Betty Capper reside at 795 Hermiston Avenue, Hermiston, OR 97838, 503-567-5145.

handed Sheepshhead game will like this. While in Madison your scribe competed in the National Sheepshhead Tournament and recorded the top score of winning 23-0 out of a possible 48 games. This is the second highest mark in the 22-year history of the tournament. Sheepshhead is a fun game and cribbers should learn it for a second game.

There are many Sheepshhead players in Arizona during the winter, and a tournament will be scheduled for next season. There is a book on the secrets of Sheepshhead, and you can guess who is the author.

The Cactus League, a third division of the Grass Roots, will play a season of 10 dates starting in November. Competition will be one-on-one in the various winter resorts. Those interested in organizing clubs or in playing should write to this columnist now.

Grass Rooters to Go for the Gold

When your President originated the Grass Roots Project, he drew up a Rating Point System for the program. It consists of earning Red Points on the local club level; Blue Points on special and district level; and Gold Points, which are to be valuable enough to keep in one's lookbox. Possessing 100 Gold Points will be utopia!

Red and Blue Points may be converted directly into Gold Points. When the brochure of the program is prepared, the conversion rate, together with other details, will be described. Red Points accumulated by the players for three seasons will be converted on or before August 15, 1987.

Leaders planning to join the Grass Roots should not wait until next season. Your people can earn Red Points from now to June 30. Don't delay! Send your charter application to Commissioner Jerry Dickinson, Box 126, Mt. Horeb, WI 53572.

Jeff Monroe made so many valid points in his CRIBBAGE WORLD article in March that I sincerely hope every tournament director reads it carefully. The issues he raises are worthy of evaluation by all of us.

that might be saved during the entire day's play by compelling two game matches. I am happy to say that every tournament I have played in in the Eastern Region requires but one game against each opponent scheduled.

He says that winning head-to-head matches is more difficult than making it through the qualifying round. That is certainly true, but the inequity comes in play from the not-infrequent occasion when the well goes dry for two consecutive games. You have immediately been knocked out of the top slot potential no matter what your overall record is in the playoff round. The fact is you can have a much poorer percentage in the playoff round and still come out on top. That being the case, I must say that luck is a greater factor in head-to-head competition.

Jeff goes on to point out the potential for inequity when, in a large field, you meet only 11 different opponents while playing 22 matches. I agree wholeheartedly and have pointed out to everyone who will listen that this technique is grossly unfair to the average player and indeed favors the best players. I would hope that every tournament director would give up the potential five minutes

Monroe points out that an inequity in qualifying rounds may occur by a player with a losing record throwing a game. He is absolutely right, and in the December 1986 CRIBBAGE WORLD I commented on the need to eject from competition immediately anyone detected so doing. I am pleased and grateful that such a warning was issued in Reno. It should be done at all sanctioned tournaments.

Jeff stated that most tournament Q-Pools on the West Coast are split evenly. So are all of them in the Eastern Region of the country. It appears our brethren in the Midwest are the only ones favoring the graduated payout. The reason is obvious. They, too, feel high qualifiers should be rewarded highly. They use the Q to do that instead of giving the reward as earned, as I suggest.

GRASS ROOTS NEWS

We have 28 paid members of our local chapter. We also have a few people who have dropped in but have not joined for one reason or another. We have had guests from San Jose and Santa Rosa, California, and even some guests from Roseburg, Oregon.

We average about 18 players a night and play 9 games. We have had young men from the local air base, and our oldest player is past 90 years old. So, you see, we have a varied and fun group.

If other cribbage players are traveling, they are welcome to join us. We play every Wednesday evening at the Senior Citizen's Center in Fairfield, California.

LETTERS TO CRIBBAGE WORLD

You will notice in the flyer for the Minnesota Open that the playoffs on Sunday will be the best two out of three and the final is three out of five. That is not correct. The playoffs will be the best three out of five, and the final will be the best four out of seven. Since time will not allow me to have all the flyers reprinted, I ask that you mention the error in the April CRIBBAGE WORLD. Thank you.

John Williams

NOTES FROM THE HAWKEYE CLASSIC

For all participants flying into Des Moines for the Hawkeye Classic Cribbage Tournament: the Sheraton Inn has a FREE shuttle to the motel.

In the terminal building at the Des Moines International Airport there is a Sheraton Inn phone. Just pick it up and ask for the shuttle to pick you up. It is free to those registered at the Sheraton. The shuttle will arrive about 20 to 30 minutes after you call. It will return you to the airport in plenty of time for your return flight. The shuttle runs from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Bob Gilbert

The front page story on reorganization in the March CRIBBAGE WORLD, while almost complete, omits mention of one vital post called for by the reorganization. That is for Secretary-General, the person who will receive correspondence and, if needed, forward it to the appropriate officer or chairperson.

We would like to join the horn tooters who have written recently and report on the phenomenally good year one of our club members had last season. Ray Rasmussen, an 82-year-old pegger from Bend, Oregon, combined his crafty skill with a love affair with Lady Luck and took home all the honors. Among his accomplishments were: top player in "Oregon's Best" Grass Roots Club, 1st place in Jupiter Division of Grass Roots Clubs, champion of the Cascade Cribbage Classic tournament (158 players), a 28 hand in Grass Roots play and a 28 hand in tournament play. How's that for one year?

Ray says he's very proud to be part of his Grass Roots club, but we're all just as proud of our Ray.
