Four new members elected to BOD

Election Results

The results of the 2011 election for the Board of Directors have been announced by ACC President Jeanne Hofbauer after being certified by Vice President of Policy Catherine Perkins. Over twelve hundred ballots, representing 17.7% of the 6,821 ballots mailed to ACC members in April, were returned. This number continues an upward trend noted in the last election: 1,012 ballots were cast in 2009, compared to only 854 ballots in 2007.

As in the past several elections, the Western Region again captured ten of the twenty-five available slots. The Central Region seated six candidates, with the Eastern Region picking up the remaining nine seats.

Two current BOD members (Bob Julian and Joan Rein) did not run for reelection, and two other incumbents (Herschel Mack and David Clemmey) were defeated in their reelection bids. This opened up four slots on the BOD, and they were filled by four new directors who bring strong credentials to the BOD: Peggy Shea (Eureka CA), Paul Barnes (Daytona Beach FL), David O'Neil (Clarkston GA), and Donald Hannula (Lake Linden MI). (See box on page 11 for more details.)

The highest vote-getter among the new BOD members was Peggy Shea, who garnered 547 votes and polled #7—an exceptionally high finish for a first-time BOD candidate.

My Deal

by David Aiken

A prayer of confession in the Episcopal church asks forgiveness for things done and things left undone, thus recognizing that humans not only do bad things to one another, but also fail to do good things.

I'm sure that any one of my friends or relatives could recite a litany of the bad things I've done (references available upon request), but perhaps only I know of the good things I should have done—but didn't. Since space is limited, I'll constrain the list to only cribbage stuff.

First, a big apology to Roland and Becky Hall (Napa CA), who got married in Reno NV following the big cribbage tournament in February.

This was an all-ACC affair: Lavonne Cookman was matron of honor, Tom Cookman stood in as father of the bride, Cy Madrone was best man, and Barbara Woodward made sure they had a perfect day and provided a beautiful wedding cake. The cozy Sands wedding chapel was filled with cribbage friends and family, and Cy and Willie Evans roasted the bride and groom at the reception.

If I have any excuse at all for overlooking this significant event in the life of the current MRP leader, it's this: Roland first met Becky in 1985 and they began dating in 1989. Something tells me that the man who waited twenty-two years to pop the question probably isn't terribly worried about an announcement that's four months late!

Fortunately, I am a little more timely in announcing another cribbage nuptial. The former Beth Witter (Green Bay WI) is now Beth Widener. Beth met Keith Widener (Clemmons NC) in April 2006 when she beat him in game nine at the

Ethan Guyaz

I commend the fine article about Ethan Guyaz. I consider him a friend. In the only ACC tournament ever held in Ontario (the 2007 Golden Horseshoe Open), he came the greatest distance to participate. In the qualifying round I had a perfect scorecard, except for one loss—to Ethan. At Niagara this April, Ethan was on my immediate left and I heard him in his own way audibly commenting on his holdings. The next morning, before the consolation, I told him not to talk about his hand because it helped his opponents. He did precisely as I advised and went on to win the consolation.

Hal Mueller (Hamilton ON)

Thanks

Thank you for the opportunity to serve as your director on the Board of Directors for the last 25+ years. I have enjoyed serving you and meeting so many of you. You are what makes this organization work so beautifully. Congratulations to the new BOD this year. I am confident you will do a great job.

Joan Rein (Carver MN)

Cribbage Is Fun

I got the June Cribbage World today and read what it had to say about what made a game fun. I love the neck-and-neck ones. I like to win too, but I don't that often. Just a few tough players I enjoy beating. The best was when a lady I helped told me how much she learned from me. I never thought I had helped her that much. It was better than a win. I think that playing for money and points has taken some of the fun out of it.

Jean N. Butler (Hubbell MI)

Cribbage Speedster

I was returning home from the Lake Superior Challenge Tourney when a state police officer stopped me for going 71 in a 55 mph zone. After I answered her questions about where I was going (Gaylord MI) and from where (Ishpeming MI), I added that I was in a cribbage tourney there. I asked the officer if she played cribbage and she replied, "No, my grandmother tried to teach me but I got the numbers wrong." I told her, "I understand; I too get the numbers wrong." She went back to the squad car, and when she returned said, "I am not giving you a ticket, but driver slower next time." Were the cribbage gods with me or what?

Correction & Apology

St. Croix Classic

Okay, let's get one thing straight. No cribbage player in their right mind—especially not Ray Yaeger (Hastings MN)—would ever split up four 5s, as reported in Cribbage World last month. Here's the straight scoop: Ray was dealt 5-5-5-6-9-Q on fourth street. Ray had good board position, and so—rather than throw 6-9 into his opponent's crib—he held 5-5-5-6 and discarded 9-Q to his opponent. In an unimaginable stroke of rotten luck, however, the cut card was the case 5. If Ray had thrown 6-9 and held 5-5-5-Q, he would have earned $250 from the casino!

Green Bay Saturday night satellite to preserve her grand slam and capture first place! Five years later, she captured a much bigger prize.

(I guess that ACC President Jeanne Hofbauer's column last month was spot on: romance does indeed bloom across the cribbage board!)

Back in 2009 I got a letter from Dick Ogden (Des Moines IA) informing me of the death of Opal Tomlinson (Bondurant IA). I was in the throes of planning Grand National 28, and somehow the letter got mixed up with my GN paperwork. While recently cleaning out my GN file, I came upon Dick's letter, which also contained a newspaper article about Opal. You deserve to know about this lady, so my apologies for an unconscionable delay in informing the cribbage-playing world of the death of this fantastic person.

Opal was born in 1906 and lived to the ripe old age of 102. She first learned to play cribbage in the late 1920s and got a coveted 29-hand in 1992! She played in a sanctioned tournament at age 99 and was a charter member of both the ACC and Capital City Cribbage Club 17 in Des Moines IA. At the time of her death she had earned 123 MRPs and 358 GRPs.

In offering this belated farewell to a classy cribbage player, it's only fair to let you in on Opal's secret to longevity. Playing cribbage, she said, "keeps me going."

Well, I still need to answer a few letters and emails sitting in the bottom of my inbox, but at least for now I've cleared my conscience. CW

NOTES FROM CRIBBAGELAND

by JORDAN WIKLUND

The last time I pulled an all-nighter was in college. It's a toss-up as to whether I was out with friends or studying, but as a working adult, the all-nighter is an event better observed than attempted, something for those without a 9-to-5. At least until I found myself, on the first weekend of June, blinking at the morning sunrise.

The event was Northern Spark, a sun-down-to-sunrise Twin Cities-wide music, art, and community event. I was invited to join a contingent of artists in the Lowertown area of St. Paul. The goal was to share a game of cribbage with roaming festival-goers, hear their stories, share a few words, and generally enjoy the evening (and morning).

My table was just one of many littered with cards and board games, illuminated by candlelight and the distant rays of dull street lamps. Broadway Street was transformed; up the street and lit from within, a dome of aluminum struts featured karaoke and mandatory snapshots of every entrant. Lyrics from the karaoke machine were cast by a projector on the side of the Black Dog Restaurant, a jaunty little joint that stayed open all night and offered ambient music and lucid-dream-inducing wines and cheeses (really, there was a workshop).

Across the street from both was an art-swap shanty made of PVC piping with canvas for walls, while towering over them both was the dance shanty, a jacked-up trailer where you could let your hair down and groove under the stars. Clear skies and a rainless night made everything that much easier and enjoyable. Hundreds roamed through our little street that night, drawn by the promise of good times and good people.

Is it any wonder the cribbage tables were popular? Armed with a notebook, a few cans of pop, and some homemade cookies and donuts, I was busy most of the night, sharing stories over the cribbage board and hearing just how others learned the game and why they return to it.

A young pottery slip-caster told me she learned the game at camp while young, and continues to play with family on holidays. "I love art—love it," she said, and was pleased to hear of some of the craftsmen I've met, crafting cribbage boards from burl wood, driftwood, salvaged material from sunken ships, or fine tanned leather. Another woman was afraid she'd meet a lover at a cribbage tournament, after her bridge-playing parents' romance, also kindled at a card tournament, ended in divorce. A young 20-something told me about his nonprofit work in schools, and I told him how some educators around the country are using cribbage as an interactive tool to teach math. There were more people and more stories, of course, but the evening proved once more something we already know—what a potent catalyst of community this game can be.

Now if only I could channel those scores to the ACC for next year—I dropped only a few games all night! CW

One unsuccessful candidate for the BOD questioned the results of the election and asked the Executive Committee to review some of the procedural steps. After further review, the Executive Committee determined that the objections were without merit and voted unanimously to certify the election results.

The ACC policies regulating the composition of the BOD call for twenty-five at-large members, with a minimum of six but no more than ten from each region. In addition, no state can have more than four BOD members.

Both the regional and state limits conspired to prevent Julie Mack-Felkins (Woodland CA) from a successful run for the BOD in her first attempt. She gained a very respectable 360 votes and polled #25, but because she was the eleventh-place Western Region candidate and also the fifth-place California candidate, she cannot serve on the BOD unless one of

In addition, the Central Region placed only five members among the top twenty-five vote-getters, and so to meet the six-member minimum, Donald Hannula, who polled #28 with 333 votes, becomes the twenty-fifth BOD member.

Cribbage Board of the Month

BY JAY FULWIDER

This beautiful cribbage board is a souvenir from New Zealand. It is marked “New Zealand Timbers” and has wood inlays from all the trees native to New Zealand. Because of their predominantly English heritage, New Zealanders are as passionate about cribbage as their counterparts here in North America.

This board is only a small part of a bigger story involving many people in our ACC family. It began with an email to me from ACC President Jeanne Hofbauer, who asked me to contact BOD member Bob Julian. I called Bob and found out that he had acquired this item from the cribbage board collection of ACC member Evelyn Kirk. Bob told me that CW editor Dave Aiken had more history on Evelyn’s collection. After emailing Dave, I found more to the story.

When Evelyn passed away last year, her brother, Gayle Johnson (Watertown WI), donated her collection to the ACC’s Youth Cribbage Program. I talked with Dan Zeisler, head of this program, and he has already passed some of the donated boards on to kids and teachers. Dan will use some of the nicer boards for trophies at youth tournaments.

Thanks to all of the ACC members involved with making me aware of the donation of Evelyn’s collection. This has inspired me, and I have told Dan that some of my collection will be shipped to him in the future.

Jay Fulwider collects cribbage boards in picturesque Washington State. Ideas for and questions about this column may be sent to him at budandotis@msn.com (put “Cribbage Board” in the subject line). CBCS Annual Convention

The Cribbage Board Collectors Society has announced that its twelfth annual convention will be held on September 16–17 in Grand Haven MI.

Hosted by Cecil and Betz Bradshaw (Grand Haven MI) and assisted by ACC member Daniel Betz (Muskegon MI), the two-day convention will contain many features designed to appeal to all attendees:

- cribbage tournament
- show-and-tell displays of cribbage boards by CBCS members (open to the public on Saturday the 17th between 10a and noon)
- a visit to the Tri-Cities Historical Museum in Grand Haven
- special presentation by local historian and cribbage enthusiast Wallace K. Ewing, an avid postcard collector
- many shopping and local attractions (boardwalk, pier, musical fountain)
- executive officers meeting
- business meeting
- prizes for oldest board, most desirable board, and ugliest board

The host facility is the Holiday Inn on 940 W Savidge in Spring Lake MI 49456

ACC Judges

Please keep your ACC membership active. Failure to do so will result in your name being removed from the list of certified judges. Even when given a grace period, it is amazing how many judges fail to renew their membership on time. Please don't add to the workload of membership secretary Larry Hassett and judging examiner Al Miller by being delinquent with your membership renewal.

(phone 616.846.1000). The room rate of $79.95 per night is guaranteed through August 15.

The convention is open to non-CBCS members who pay the $100 registration fee, but the convention cribbage board is available only to CBCS members. Anyone who wants to receive a convention board must pay their CBCS membership dues and also register for the conference by August 15.

For more details, visit the CBCS website at cribbageboardsonline.com.

ACC Awards

James Langley
(Red Bluff CA)
Life Master (3★) #7

Jim no more earned his Gold Award in Grass Roots play (see last month's CW) than he picked up a third star in tournament play. But it wasn't easy: several months ago he pulled to within eight MRPs, but then in one tourney after another he played both main and consolation and didn't get a single MRP. Finally, he qualified in a main—only to get knocked out in the first round! But the twelfth time was a charm, as he qualified in the Carson City consolation and became the ACC's seventh Three Star winner. Jim is an avid sudoku player and is equally enthusiastic about donating blood, plasma, and platelets. Since age 21, he has given over 500 units—and counting! His passion for hunting and fishing recently took him on a ten-day trip to Alaska.

Rick learned to play as a teenager and joined the ACC in 1992. In addition to DeLynn Colbert's book, he looks to Duane Toll and Jim Langley as his cribbage mentors. A recent member of "Oregon's Best Club 12, Rick was a longtime member of Timber Capital Club 62, where he earned his Bronze Award. He has been champion at both clubs. Rick's first main tourney win was in Lincoln City OR in May 2006 and that is, naturally enough, his favorite tournament. His toughest opponents are Rollie Heath and Paul Hatcher. His favorite cribbage moment this year was watching wife Dana win her first tourney. Rick enjoys bowling, golf, spending time with Dana, and helping new players learn how to play competitive cribbage.

In Memoriam

David L. Brennan

David Brennan (Chelsea MI) passed away on June 8 at age 81. He will be missed by his friends at Jackson Peggers Club 332.

John Ehly

John Ehly (Tacoma WA) passed away at the age of 94 on May 8. John was new to the ACC, having joined Tacoma Club 243 just last year. His family said that the Monday night Grass Roots game was the highlight of John's week.

JoAnn Freels

JoAnn Freels (Seaside CA) passed away on May 26. She was a new member and just learning to play cribbage, but she liked the friendships she made at club. She was always cheerful, whether she won or lost. She will be missed by Club 82.

Claudette L. Lambert

Claudette Lambert passed away April 3 at her home. She played in many tournaments, in which she had fun and enjoyed the company of everyone. Claudette will be missed by all who had the privilege of knowing her. She won the championship of the Woonsocket chapter of the Rhode Island Cribbage Association this year and went on to win the state championship a week before she passed away. While we mourn her loss, we cherish our memories of her smile and of her kindness.

Clarence Van Orsow

Clarence Van Orsow, longtime cribbage

competitor, passed away May 12 at the grand old age of 91. He was still competing in Grass Roots at the Bend OR club earlier this year. He was a fearsome competitor—having earned both his Bronze Award and Grand Master rating—but always a gentleman. He passed his skills on to his two sons. His chuckle when pegging out for another win will be remembered by those of us who had the good fortune to know him.

Joseph H. Vogel

Joseph Vogel (Washington MO) passed away on May 9 at age 86 after a brief illness. Joe served in the U.S. Navy during WWII and was a reservist until 1956. He was a flight engineer for the Playboy Corporation, Pan American Airlines, and TWA from 1968 until his retirement in 1992. A founding member of the Missouri Good Hands Cribbage Club, he will be missed by all who had the privilege of knowing him. Joe was club champion three times and was always a worthy opponent. He played the game with skill and humor and will be sorely missed.

Charles Will

Charles "Chuck" Will, a longtime member of Club 140, passed away June 1 in Sonora CA. He enjoyed playing cribbage and rarely missed a night of playing with the club. No matter his fortune—or misfortune—he remained calm, cool, and always a gentleman. We never heard him complain. He will be missed.

Youth Teaching Tip

So many times in this column, I have encouraged the act of directly teaching cribbage to school-age children. I'm going to stray a bit this month and throw out another suggestion: Have you ever thought about teaching a cribbage class through a local adult education program? Many local colleges offer this, and welcome skilled community members to teach classes such as cribbage. You even get paid for your services! So why mention this in my youth column? Every adult you teach how to play cribbage also becomes a potential teacher of the game. Your students may have children or grandchildren who indirectly learn the game due to your efforts. Touch lives. Teach cribbage!

Youth News

Being a bit short on youth news this time of year, I'm dedicating this month's write-up to a great story about passing cribbage on from generation to generation. Jim Eggen (Eagan WI) tells the story of a leather cribbage board currently in his possession that was passed on by his grandfather to his father and then to him. His father Roy had the board with him throughout his tour of duty during WWII, where he saw combat in France and Germany. During his time in Europe, cribbage helped Roy and his army buddies pass the time and divert their attention from the war. Once back in the States, Roy used this old leather board to teach his son Jim the game of cribbage. In 1985, Jim inherited the board when Roy died and used it to teach his two sons how to play the game. One day Jim hopes that one of his grandchildren will become the next Eggen generation to possess the board and keep the tradition of passing it down alive.

The President's Column

by Jeanne Hofbauer

The ACC Board of Directors election results have been tabulated. I want to thank the 1,207 of you who voted. Membership secretary Larry Hassett tells me that 6,816 ballots were sent out, so I am wondering why so many of you chose not to vote.

In the previous election (two years ago) slightly over 1,000 of you voted and in the election prior to that (four years ago) there were 854 votes, showing an upward trend of interest, which is a positive note. So we are on an upswing, although at a rather glacial speed.

I would sincerely like to know your reasons for not voting. Please understand that I am not chastising anyone, but I am genuinely interested. Therefore, anyone wanting to share that information can email, call, write, or just talk to me. I wonder what would pique the membership's interest enough to participate in choosing those who will make the decisions for this organization.

I am not so naïve that I can't guess why there is voter apathy. Some people feel that their one vote will not make any difference, and some just forget to vote or lose their ballot. But mostly, members just want to come and play cribbage, not to be involved in any way in the politics of the organization.

Perhaps we need to change the schedule to allow for more or possibly less time for the voting process. Maybe we need to get more information about the candidates to the membership. I hope that by the time of the next election, you will consider your vote a privilege, know which candidates would be best suited for the work the BOD does, and respect those that you know are qualified by voting for them.

On behalf of the entire membership I would like to thank the following members who put in many volunteer hours on the election: Sue Pisha (Portland OR), for receiving and disseminating the candidates' information; Dave Aiken (Ada MI), for assembling the information in the appropriate form for CW; Megan Player (Cary NC), for collecting and tabulating the ballots; and Catherine Perkins (Bear Creek NC), for overseeing the whole process and doing the finishing tasks. Thanks also goes to the candidates for being willing to go through the election process and making a commitment to serve this organization.

25 Years Ago in the ACC

The cover of the July 1986 Cribbage World announced the winners of the BOD election. Successful BOD candidates who are still ACC members were Scott Kooistra, Dale Munroe, John Chambers, DeLynn Colvert, Syl Lulinski, Joan Rein, and Shirley Fitzpatrick. The number of ballots received was impressive: 1,526, or 40.6% of the ACC membership.

Elsewhere in this issue we find an insightful letter from Scott Kooistra (then of Yankton SC, now of Omaha NE) in which he outlines a plan to reduce the BOD to 15 members and also discusses the concept of regionalization within the BOD.

Gold Cribbage Club 318 (Holmes PA) would like to congratulate Ron Comer on clearing out half the skunk jar by getting a 28-hand on May 9. submitted by Steve Fitchett

River City Peggers 162 (Carmichael CA) held its GRNT on April 16 at Sam's Hof Brau. It was a fun day for all. Annett Eiffert won the tournament, followed by Doug Dresbach and Pete Weisick. Unfortunately, two members received pearls, one set in the morning and one set in the afternoon. At club on April 12 pearls were received by another member. Now three of us have pearls—and we can't wait to get rid of them! submitted by Kim Fairless

Club 261 (Edmonton AB)—Gary Wirth claimed the club championship for the current season, prevailing in a very tight race that came down to the final week, final game, and final hand before the outcome was decided. Congrats also go out to Terry Hatto and Lewis Skidmore, who claimed second and third respectively. Michael

Milobar scored a 28-hand on May 4 and picked up a nice bonus for that feat. submitted by Gary Wirth

Monterey Marauders (Seaside CA)—competition is getting tougher in Club 82! For the whole season, there were only three big payouts: Ross Njaa scored a grand slam in week seven, and Velda Shipman followed with one the very next week. The only 28-hand was drawn by Mel Ashley in week twenty-six. Ross scored in both the GRRT and the GRNT to lift him to the club championship! Dave Shifflett played just enough weeks to qualify for the club award for best winning percentage—a fantastic .632! Christy Lens was second with a very nice .594. Most importantly, we welcomed two new members: John Rathbun and Mal Gray. submitted by Christy Lens

Para-Pines Peggers (Club 142 in Paradise CA)—the season has ended and the club champion is Bethany Rolfson, who ended the season with 198 GRPs. John Prehn was second with 179 GRPs. Jim Sweet played in just five tournaments and scored points each time he played, for 65 GRPs. We had only one 28-hand this year, by Herb Hollander, who received half the skunk pot for it. We had no strings of pearls this year, but some very close calls. Maybe next season will bring some 29-hands. submitted by Dennis Phillips

Stone Street Players (Club 161 in Bellingham MA) held their yearend cookout and awards night recently. Three players scored grand slams this season: Paul Watson, Earl Remington, and Pat Martin. No 29-hands were scored but two 28s showed up: Pat Martin and Ralph Armstrong (his first-ever). Veteran player Syd Lempke was crowned club champion, and Arnie Beau regard won his second whiners trophy. We play all summer long at 30 Stone Street in Bellingham (7:30p every Thursday). Come join the fun! submitted by R. Orff

Silver Dollar Cribbage Club 156 (Sunnyside WA)—he isn't the first club member to graduate high school. But he is the first to do it while being a club member. Congratulations to Dylan Truax, class of 2011 at Prosser High School. Dylan will be attending Columbia Basin Community College, where he plans to play football and get his AA. submitted by James Morrow

Greenwood Cribbage Club 199 (WI) traveled to play Wisconsin Rapids Club 120 in their sixteenth annual end-of-the-season team tournament on June 2. The top ten players from Greenwood met the ten players from Wisconsin Rapids in the competition. When the matches were over, the Greenwood ten had earned the most points and carried home the traveling trophy for the second year in a row. The record is now 9–7 in favor of Wisconsin Rapids. The competition was tough but everybody had a good time. submitted by Sandra Hinker

Timber Capital Club 62 (Roseburg OR)—the final club tourney on May 10 ended with Margaret Keeley and Arnold Cole recording strings of pearls. May 17 began summer play, with Arnold getting another string of pearls—in part because Burt Ellis scored a grand slam that night. Mike

TD Resources

A new webpage entitled "Tournament Director Resources" has been created on the ACC's website. This page contains several items that TDs will find useful:

- ACC sanction-request form
- ACC membership form
- ACC business cards
- ACC tournament official rules
- playoff bracket instructions
- brackets for 32, 64, and 128 players

To access this info, follow these steps:

- go to cribbage.org
- click on the "Schedule/Results" link in the left column
- click on the "Tournament Director Resources" link in the center column

If you would like to suggest addition items to post on this page, contact Patrick Barrett (715.424.5059; gnxvibarrett@gmail.com) or Dave Aiken (616.401.8311; cribbage@iserv.net).
